

REFERENCES

1. Cisson, M.C.; Rausina, G.A.; Stonebraker, P.M. Human health and environmental hazard characterisation of lubricating oil additives. Lubr. Sci. 1996, 8, 145–177.
2. Bartz, W.J. Ecotribology: Environmentally acceptable tribological practices. Tribol. Int. 2006, 39, 728–733.
3. Nikolakopoulos, P.G.; Bompos, D.A. Experimental measurements of journal bearing friction using mineral, synthetic, and bio-based lubricants. Lubr. 2015, 3, 155–163.
4. Garcés Mancheño, R.; Martínez-Force, E.; Salas, J.J. Vegetable oil basestocks for lubricants. Grasas Aceites 2011, 62, 21–28.
5. Salih, N.; Salimon, J.; Yousif, E. The physicochemical and tribological properties of oleic acid based triester biolubricants. Ind. Crops Prod. 2011, 34, 1089–1096.
6. Syahrullail, S.; Zubil, B.; Azwadi, C.; Ridzuan, M. Experimental evaluation of palm oil as lubricant in cold forward extrusion process. Int. J. Mech. Sci. 2011, 53, 549–555.
7. Arumugam, S.; Sriram, G. Effect of bio-lubricant and biodiesel-contaminated lubricant on tribological behavior of cylinder Liner-Piston ring combination. Tribol. Trans. 2012, 55, 438–445.
8. Nikolakopoulos, P.G.; Bompos, D.A. Experimental measurements of journal bearing friction using mineral, synthetic, and bio-based lubricants. Lubricants, 2015, 3, 155–163.
9. Syarif, S. Perancangan dan pembuatan alat uji bantalan gelinding. Final report, Mechanical Engineering, Andalas University. 2016.
10. Harris, T.A.; Kotzalas, M.N. (2006) Essential Concepts of Bearing Technology 5th. Ed. Taylor and Francis Group