

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

This research is an analysis of illocutionary act in Kendall Jenner's captions on Instagram. 129 data of illocutionary act are found in this research. In this case, there are five types of illocutionary act in the captions. They are 57 assertive types of illocutionary act, 12 directive types, 2 commissive types, 56 expressive types, and 2 declarative types. Moreover, there are four functions of illocutionary in the captions. They are 79 collaboratives, 16 competitives of the function of illocutionary, 25 convivial of the function, and 9 conflictives of the function.

Furthermore, the dominant type of illocutionary act is the assertive type because Jenner expresses her belief toward something. She tells about her job in modeling. The other types of illocutionary act that can be found in this research are directive, commissive, expressive and declarative. The declarative is the least type of illocutionary act used by Jenner because she rarely declares something about her personal life. The dominant function of illocutionary is collaborative because her post contains an information about her job. She wants to share the information without forcing her followers to do something. Her followers can give comments and likes or they can also ignore it. The function that is rarely used by Jenner is conflictive because she seldom uses an utterance that can make a conflict for her followers or the hearer.
