ABSTRAK

Tuntutan untuk memberikan pelayanan keperawatan secara holistik bagi perawat diperlukan oleh rumah sakit untuk meningkatkan kualitas pelayanan dan meningkatkan kepuasan. Salah satu peran perawat yang sering terabaikan adalah memberikan asuhan keperawatan spiritual kepada klien. Perawat di Ruang Rawat Inap RSI Ibnu Sina Padang belum optimal dalam memberikan asuhan keperawatan spiritual. Asuhan keperawatan masih fokus pada kebutuhan biologis belum menyeluruh. Banyak faktor yang menjadi penyebab belum optimalnya pelaksanaan asuhan keperawatan spiritual. Tujuan penelitian ini adalah untuk mengetahui faktor yang mempengaruhi peran perawat dalam memenuhi kebutuhan spiritual klien di RSI Ibnu Sina Padang. Jenis penelitian deskriptif analitik dengan pendekatan cross sectional study. Teknik pengambilan sampel dalam penelitian ini adalah proportional sampling. Analisis statistik yang digunakan adalah analisis bivariat dengan uji chi square dan analisis multivariat dengan uji regresi logistic. Hasil Analisis deskriptif responden, peran perawat dalam memenuhi kebutuhan spiritual klien dilaksanakan (52,8%), spiritual perawat baik (58,5%), pengetahuan perawat baik (96,2%), komunikasi perawat baik (52,8%), tidak ada konflik (67,9%), Tidak sesuai peran/peran berlebihan (50,9%), tidak sesuai budaya (60,4%), keterlibatan (58,5%). Analisis bivariat menunjukkan bahwa ada hubungan yang signifikan antara spiritual perawat, komunikasi perawat, budaya dan keterlibatan terhadap peran perawat dalam memenuhi kebutuhan spiritual klien di RSI Ibnu Sina Padang. Analisis multivariat menunjukkan faktor paling dominan terhadap peran perawat dalam memenuhi kebutuhan spiritual klien yaitu komunikasi perawat (Odd Ratio 128,166). Disarankan kepada perawat untuk menerapkan asuhan keperawatan spiritual dalam upaya peningkatan mutu pelayanan rumah sakit.

ABSTRACT

The demand to provide nursing services holistically for nurses is needed by hospitals to improve service quality and increase satisfaction. One of the roles of nurses who are often neglected is to provide spiritual care to clients. Nurses in Inpatients Room at Ibnu Sina Hospital in Padang have not been optimal in providing spiritual nursing care yet. Nursing care is still focused on biological needs, it is not comprehensive. Many factors affect the implementation of spiritual nursing care so that, this has an impact on meeting the spiritual needs of clients during hospitalization. The purpose of this study was to determine the factors that influence the role of nurses in meeting the spiritual needs of clients at the Ibnu Sina Hospital in Padang. Type of this study was descriptive analytic study with cross sectional study approach. The sampling in this study is proportional sampling. The statistical analysis used was a bivariate analysis with a multivariate analysis test with a regression logistic analysis. The results of the descriptive analysis of respondents, the role of nurses in meeting the client's spiritual needs was implemented (52.8%), spiritual nurses were good (58.5%), nurse knowledge is good (96.2%), nurse communication was good (52.8%), no conflict (67.9%), inappropriate role / excessive role (50.9%), not culturally appropriate (60.4%), involvement (58.5%). The results of the bivariate analysis showed that there was a significant relationship between spiritual nurses, nurse communication, culture and involvement in the role of nurses in meeting the spiritual needs of clients at RSI Ibnu Sina Padang. The results of multivariate analysis showed the most dominant factor on the role of nurses in fulfill the spiritual needs of clients, namely nurse communication (Exp B 128,166). It is recommended to nurses to apply spiritual nursing care in an effort to improve the quality of hospital service.
